Beef Supplies Dwindle Over Entire Nation

Chicago, June 8 — The worst beef shortage in retail markets since wartime threatened today in the face of dwindling supplies of cattle at the nation's major livestock markets.

Sharp beef shortages will appear in butcher shops in many cities next week some packing industry spokesmen predicted.

Some independent stores already were reported to have felt the beef pinch. Butchers in the independent and chains were emphasizing pork, poultry, and fish, supplies of which are relatively plentiful.

Marketing and slaughtering by many of the big packers fell far below normal this week. Cattle receipts at the country's 12 principal live stock markets this week were nearly 35 per cent below that of the corresponding week a year ago.

Macy's was met price-for-price by Gimbel's, and the war spread through the city and to many other common unities across the nation.

After hearing some two dozen witnesses, the committee held a closed session last night.

Also in the nation's capital, Sen. John Spakman (D-Ala.) chairman of the senate small business committee, ordered a probe into the effect of the price battle on small business.

Report to Be Made on Bomb Tests

New York, June 7 — (AP) — A report on last month's atomic bomb tests at Onitwetok probably will be made public next week, Chairman Gordon Dean of the atomic energy commission (AEC) said today.

At the same time, he said, more tests will be held in the future "and quite probably at more frequent intervals, as our developmental program continues to produce improved types of weapons that must be pre-tested before they can be placed into production."

Already, Dean declared in a speech prepared for the New York State Chamber of Commerce, this country is producing "on an industrial basis" bombs which "are considerably improved over those used in World War II."

Dismissing the technical language which the AEC often uses in its announcements, Dean said the AEC is "working on the development of a hydrogen bomb, on improved types of atomic bombs, and on atomic warheads for artillery and guided missiles."

There has been widespread speculation that some form of "trigger" or baby hydrogen bomb had been tried out at the series of tests which the commission announced on May 25 had been concluded at the Onitwetok proving grounds in the Pacific.

Dean gave no indication that the public report on the tests would shed much light on this speculation.

He said Lt. Gen. Elwood R. Quesada, commander of the task force which conducted the tests, and Dr. Alvin C. Graves of the Los Alamos (N. M.) laboratory "are now back in the United States and will probably be ready some time next week to say all that can be said publicly about them at this time."

Dean commented drily that the AEC does not give out its rate of progress, either in development or production, because "such information would be of very great value to our competitors."

Turning to the problem of economic power for propulsion, Dean said "We are much farther along on the submarine powerplant than on a comparable one for airplanes, but he added:

"I am sure in my own mind that such power plants, he continued, the AEC will pick up a lot of information of value in getting costs of atomic power for commercial use, which he said may not come for a considerable time.

Dean was optimistic about the supply of uranium, essential to the production of atomic power. He said the prospects "are considerably more encouraging than on the gloomy side, and will remain so for many years to come."

While newly-found deposits are not rich, he said, a number of promising ones have been found in this country and Canada, and considerable progress has been made in recovering uranium from low grade ores.

Vishinsky Suffers Heart Attack

United Nations, N. Y., June 8 — (AP) — An authoritative source here said today Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky is suffering from heart trouble but nevertheless may head the Soviet delegation if the council of foreign ministers meets in Washington.

The Soviet press on May 22 announced the return to duty of the 79-year old Vishinsky, following an illness which began late last winter. Cause of his illness was not announced.

The source here, who insisted on anonymity, said, however, that Vishinsky had suffered a heart attack and was improving. The foreign minister, the source continued, is under his doctor's orders to remain at home until completely well, but is so active that it is difficult to keep him from his office.

Calling of a foreign minister's conference presently is awaiting a decision by the big three western powers on Russia's conditional acceptance of the West's invitation to such a parity. The Soviets said they would meet in Washington if the conference included discussion of the North Atlantic pact and U.S. bases in Europe, subjects which the western

Bombings Traced to Youngsters

Miami, Fla., June 8 — (AP) — Four bomb happy teenagers responsible for a series of dynamite blasts in the Miami area will face felony charges, says Assistant County Solicitor Vivian Rutherford.

Rutherford said yesterday he will charge Alex John Pelloni, 18-year-old former University of Miami freshman, and Donald L. Ross, 18, June graduate of Miami senior high school, with setting off eight sticks of dynamite against a wall of Miami Jackson High school last March 7.

The second charge will name Pelloni and 17-year-old twins, John C. and James H. Steffand, Miami High school football players, in the March 2 blasting of the Imperial hotel with five sticks of dynamite, Rutherford added.

A misdemeanor charge also may be filed against some of the boys for blasting a stone marker near Musa late Indian village, the assistant solicitor said.

A fifth member of the group, Samuel Chambers, 18, son of a Miami physician and a home chemistry hobbyist, may escape prosecution because he turned state's witness, Rutherford said.

Detective Chief H. G. Howard said Pelloni admitted he engineered blasts at Miami Jackson High school, the Imperial hotel and Shenandoah Junior High school, and participated in others.

No one was injured in the blasts. The only apparent reason for the blasts was Pelloni's stunt.

ment that he had a "grudge" against the high schools and once had an argument with a woman who lived at the hotel, Howard said.

Chambers made a 100-page statement naming Pelloni the

Marine Found Guilty of Killing Wife

Detroit, June 8 — (AP) — The poor boy-rich girl marriage of Albert Daly and Virginia Hebb has completed its tragic last chapter.

Daly, 23, a marine corps private, was convicted of first degree murder yesterday for the shotgun slaying of Virginia, also 22.

A circuit court jury of nine men and three women took eight and one half hours to arrive at the verdict. It means life imprisonment.

Daly, wearing marine dress blues, paled at the verdict. He was led handcuffed from the courtroom.

The story began in 1914 when Albert met Virginia at a dance in fashionable Grosse Pointe. Three weeks later, they eloped.

Daly claimed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Pauline Hebb, widow of a wealthy manufacturer, tried to break up the marriage.

However, the jury also heard how Daly, on leave from Camp Lejeune, N. C., invaded his wife's home Feb. 8 and with a shotgun in his hands ordered Virginia into her bedroom and locked the door behind them.

Police, summoned by Mrs. Hebb, gave Daly 15 minutes to "talk it over" with Virginia. Then they burst in the door, simultaneously with a roar from the shotgun.

Virginia was dying from a wound in her stomach. Daly said the gun discharged as she grabbed it.

The jury, however, found that he had intentionally pulled the trigger.

leader and alleging the university student made some of the explosives in a "shop" at his home.

Grable, Dailey Head Cast at Saenger

Betty Grable and Dan Dailey, the most popular musical comedy team in the movies today, grace the Saenger theatre screen, Sunday, when they arrive on the local scene in "Call Me Mister." Technicolor adaptation of the smash Broadway success of the same name filmed by Twentieth Century-Fox.

One of the most successful musical revues of all time, "Call Me Mister" figures to duplicate its hit on the screen. In addition to retaining a number of the highlight numbers, both songs and sketches from the stage original, the makers of the motion picture, Edith insert a batch of fresh material, story-wise as well as from a musical viewpoint. A background of American occupation forces in quaint, flavorsome Japan has been introduced into the colorful and spirited stage counterpart.

Betty Grable, magazine-profiled as the world's most beautiful blonde last year, and dapper Dan Dailey, perfectly cast here as a genial GI, gain support in "Call Me Mister" from one of the leading comedians of the day, television and night club entertainer, Danny Thomas, whose biggest screen-tuning this is.

Eight major musical numbers promise to contribute to the air of merriment pervading this newest "Call Me Mister." Among them is the top new ballad, "Just Can't Do Enough For You — Baby," one of the tunes created for the film by lyricist Mack Gordon and composer Sammy Fain. A war-tempo revival of the mid-40s hit, "I'm Gonna Love That Guy" (Like He's Never Been Loved Before), by Frances Ash, is another lively asset for the film. From the original stage version of "Call Me Mister" comes the title song, the sprightly, fluted "Call Me Mister" and other contributions by Harold J. Rome. Special material has been provided Danny Thomas in the film by Jerry Seelen and Earl K. Brent. A famous act taking off the Air Corps, "Military Life," has been retained from the show for the film version.

Also featured in "Call Me Mister" Technicolor reincarnation are Dale Robertson, handsome newcomer; Benny Venuta, popular New York musical comedy star; rising personality Richard Boone, remembered from a prized character role in "Halls of Montezuma," and Jeffrey Hunter, a man of many antics, the irrepressible Frank Fontaine.

Directed by the veteran film Thorpe and produced by film Nayack, "Vengeance Valley" lights is savage frontier fight, cattle round-up, spectacle of a realistic atmosphere of the in one of its wildest eras. The door action drama at its best.

Margaret to Visit Stratford-on-Avon

London, June 8 — (AP) — Margaret Truman left the glittering social whirl and palace parties of London today for the pastoral tranquility of England's world famous Shakespeare country.

Rising early after a dance in her honor at U.S. Ambassador Walter Gifford's home last night, the President's daughter planned a daylong trip to Stratford-on-Avon — Mecca of countless theater-loving tourists.

There she was to stroll through the quiet streets with their white and black tudor buildings rising steeply from the sidewalks. She was to visit Shakespeare's birthplace and the cottage home of Anne Hathaway, his wife.

The governors of the Shakespeare memorial theater, adobe brick building overlooking the placid Avon, will be Margaret's hosts tonight at a performance of "Richard II."

Yesterday Margaret saw the king of the colors in honor of King George VI's birthday, visited the house of lords, had dinner at Buckingham palace and then went to the dance.

Report to Be Made on Bomb Tests

New York, June 7 — (AP) — A report on last month's atomic bomb tests at Onizetok probably will be made public next week, Chairman Gordon Dean of the atomic energy commission (AEC) said today.

At the same time, he said, more tests will be held in the future "and quite probably at more frequent intervals, as our developmental program continues to produce improved types of weapons that must be pre-tested before they can be placed into production."

Dean declared in a speech prepared for the New York State Chamber of Commerce, this country is producing "on an industrial basis" bombs which "are considerably improved over those used in World War II."

Dismissing the technical language which the AEC often uses in its announcements, Dean said the AEC is "working on the development of a hydrogen bomb, on improved types of atomic bombs, and on atomic warheads for artillery and guided missiles."

There has been widespread speculation that some form of "trigger" or baby hydrogen bomb had been tried out at the series of tests which the commission announced on May 25 had been conducted at the Eniwetok proving grounds in the Pacific.

Dean gave no indication that the public report on the tests "would shed much light on this speculation."

He said Lt. Gen. Elwood R. Quesada, commander of the task force which conducted the tests, and Dr. Alvin C. Graves of the Los Alamos (N. M.) laboratory "are now back in the United States and will probably be ready some time next week to say all that can be said publicly about them at this time."

Dean commented drily that the AEC does not give out its rate of progress, either in development or production, because "such information would be of very great value to our competitors."

Turning to the program of economic power for propulsion, Dean said "We are much farther along on the submarine" powerplant than on a comparable one for airplanes, but he added:

"I am sure in my own mind that such power plants, he continued, the AEC will pick up a lot of information of value in getting costs of atomic power for commercial use, which he said may not come for a considerable time."

Dean was optimistic about the supply of uranium, essential to the production of atomic power. He said the prospects "are considerably more encouraging than on the gloomy side, and will remain so for many years to come."

While newly-found deposits are not rich, he said, a number of promising ones have been found in this country and Canada, and considerable progress has been made in recovering uranium from low grade ores.

Vishinsky Suffers Heart Attack

United Nations, N. Y., June 8 — (AP) — An authoritative source here said today Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky is suffering from heart trouble but nevertheless may head the Soviet delegation if the council of foreign ministers meets in Washington.

The Soviet press on May 22 announced the return to duty of the 70-year old Vishinsky, following an illness which began late last winter. Cause of his illness was not announced.

The source here, who insisted on anonymity, said, however, that Vishinsky had suffered a heart attack and was improving. The foreign minister, the source continued, is under his doctor's orders to remain at home, until completely well, but is so active that it is difficult to keep him from his office.

Calling of a foreign minister's conference presently is awaiting a decision by the big three western powers on Russia's conditioned acceptance of the West's invitation to such a parity. The Soviets said they would meet in Washington if the conference included discussion of the North Atlantic pact and U.S. bases in Europe, subjects which the westerners had refused to discuss.

Bombings Traced to Youngsters

Miami, Fla., June 8 — (AP) — Four bomb happy teenagers responsible for a series to dynamite blasts in the Miami area will face felony charges, says Assistant County Solicitor Vivian Rutherford.

Rutherford said yesterday he will charge Alex John Pollen, 18-year-old former University of Miami freshman, and Donald L. Ross, 18, June graduate of Miami senior high school, with setting off eight sticks of dynamite against a wall of Miami Jackson High school last March 7.

The second charge will name Pollen and 17-year-old twins, John C. and James H. Steinfeld, Miami high school football players, in the March 2 blasting of the Imperial hotel with five sticks of dynamite, Rutherford added.

A misdemeanor charge also may be filed against some of the boys for blasting a stone marker near Muss Isle Indian village, the assistant solicitor said.

A fifth member of the group, Samuel Chambers, 18, son of a Miami physician and a home chemistry hobbyist, may escape prosecution because he turned state's witness, Rutherford said.

Detective Chief H. G. Howard said Pollen admitted he engineered blasts at Miami Jackson High school, the Imperial hotel and Shenandoah Junior High school, and participated in others.

No one was injured in the blasts.

The only apparent reason for the blasts was Pollen's state against the high schools and once had an argument with a woman who lived at the hotel, Howard said.

Chambers made a 100-page statement naming Pollen the

Marine Found Guilty of Killing Wife

Detroit, June 8 — (AP) — The poor boy-rich girl marriage of Albert Daly and Virginia Hebb has completed its tragic last chapter.

Daly, 22, a marine corps private, was convicted of first degree murder yesterday for the shotgun slaying of Virginia, also 22.

A circuit court jury of nine men and three women took eight and one half hours to arrive at the verdict. It means life imprisonment.

Daly, wearing marine dress blues, paled at the verdict. He was led handcuffed from the courtroom.

The story began in 1914 when Albert met Virginia at a dance in fashionable Grosse Pointe. Three weeks later, they eloped.

Daly claimed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Pauline Hebb, widow of a wealthy manufacturer, tried to break up the marriage.

However, the jury also heard how Daly, on leave from Camp Lejeune, N. C., invaded his wife's home Feb. 8 and with a shotgun in his hands ordered Virginia into her bedroom and locked the door behind them.

Police, summoned by Mrs. Hebb, gave Daly 15 minutes to "talk it over" with Virginia. Then they burst in the door, simultaneously with a roar from the shotgun.

Virginia was dying from a wound in her stomach. Daly said the gun discharged as she grabbed it.

The jury, however, found that he had intentionally pulled the trigger.

Under and alleging the university student made some of the explosives in a "shop" at his home.

Grable, Dailey Head Cast at Saenger

Betty Grable and Dan Dailey, the most popular musical comedy team in the movies today, grace the Saenger theatre screen, Sunday, when they arrive on the local scene in "Call Me Mister." Technicolor adaptation of the smash Broadway success of the same name filmed by Twentieth Century-Fox.

One of the most successful musical revues of all time, "Call Me Mister" figures to duplicate its hit on the screen. In addition to retaining a number of the highlight numbers, both songs and sketches, from the stage original, the makers of the motion picture, Hallicon, inserted a batch of fresh material, story-wise as well as from a musical viewpoint. A background of American occupation forces in quaint, flavorsome Japan has been introduced into the colorful and spirited stage counterpart.

Betty Grable, magazine-profiled as the world's most beautiful blonde last year, and dapper Dan Dailey, perfectly cast here as a genial GI, gain support in "Call Me Mister" from one of the leading comedians of the day, television and night club entertainer, Danny Thomas, whose biggest screen inning this is.

Eight major musical numbers promise to contribute to the air of enjoyment providing this newest "Call Me Mister." Among them is the top new ballad, "I Just Can't Do Enough For You — Baby," one of the tunes created for the film by lyricist Mack Gordon and composer Sammy Fain. A war-torn revival of the mid-40s hit, "I'm Gonna Love That Guy" (Like He's Never Been Loved Before), by Frances Ash, is another timely set for the film. From the original stage version of "Call Me Mister" comes the title song, the spiritual flavored "Going Home Train" and other contributions by Harold J. Kono. Special material has been provided Danny Thomas in the film by Jerry Seaton and Earl K. Brent. A famous skill taking off the Air Corps, "Military Life," has been retained from the show for the film version.

Also featured in "Call Me Mister" Technicolor reincarnation are Dale Robertson, handsome newcomer; Benay Venuta, popular New York musical comedy star; rising personalities Richard Boone, remembered from a prized character role in "Halls of Montezuma," and Jeffrey Hunter, and a main of many antics, the irrepressible Frank Fontaine.

Directed by the veteran, Richard Thorpe and produced by Sidney Naytnok, "Vengeance Valley" lights is a savage frontier battle, a realistic atmosphere of the in one of its wildest eras. It's a door action drama at its best.

U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Brannan says the average farmer gets about 40 cents an acre for his labor plus five per cent more on his investment with allowance for payment of taxes or for managing the farm.

Ministers Vote for Pay Hikes

Hot Springs, June 8 — (AP) — The Little Rock Methodist conference has increased by $200 at minimum salary standards for ministers.

The increased scale calls for a minimum of $1,800 annually for married pastors and $1,600 for single men. It is retroactive to the 1931 conference year. The conference is holding its 8th annual session here.

Sunday School LESSON

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.
The coming and ministry of Jesus
of Nazareth was not just a great and climactic epoch of the Bible;
it was the beginning of an era,
the Christian era, which continues to all time. "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, today and forever."
Yet the coming of Jesus, in its historical and spiritual setting is linked very closely with the period over five centuries earlier and the restoration of the Jews in their homeland.

It was then that Jewish religion and prophecy reached its highest point. It is significant that the last of the canonical Old Testament prophecies dates back to four hundred years before the coming of Jesus.

But it would be a mistake to regard those four hundred years as a dry, arid, and uneventful period
in Jewish history, or without deep significance for Christian beginnings.
The translation of the Bible, authorized by King James I of England (the "Authorized Version") in common use, included originally the Apocryphal Books of the Old Testament. They will be found in many of the old type "Family Bibles," that reposed in so many homes on parlor tables.
These books have a great significance. The Books of "Jude Maccabees," for instance, record the story of faith and fortitude under the bitter persecutions. They tell of the Grecian conquerors seeking to pervert and corrupt the religion and worship of Judaism with pagan elements and practices.

But the events of that period between the Testaments were even more significant. It was the time of the great dispersion of the Jews
throughout the Grecian and Roman world, with the development of the synagogues as center of religion and education. In the story of the spread of Christianity, in the Book of the Acts, one can see how greatly that dispersion and the synagogues furthered the rapid growth and expansion under the leader### ship of St. Paul and the early

Christian missionaries.
One finds many references to the proselytes among the Christian converts. These were non-Jews who were drawn to Judaism by its superior morality in contrast with the corruption widely prevalent in paganism. The openness of mind and moral earnestness with which these proselytes had accepted Judaism made them ready accessible to Paul's presentation of the fulfillment and crowning of Jewish faith
and prophecy.
Much of that is clear in the record between the era of Jesus and the period of the Apostles. It is the Jewish proselytes who were the first converts to Christianity.

Congress May Wait, Truman Hands Tied

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 8 — (AP) — It looks as though President Truman will have quite a wait before he can make up his mind.
He told a news conference yesterday he won't decide about making a cross-country talking tour until he sees how his program fares in congress.
And he can't do that, he said,
until congress quits.
Judging from the gait at which congress has been traveling, or not traveling, it can't quit before the end of summer anyway, and probably not then except maybe
for a short recess.
The biggest part of its work still lies ahead of it, even though some of the members have been making restless noises about a summer vacation.
This has been an unusually gabby congress, with a great strength of its time, especially the senate's, so far taken up with two big items of discussion:
1. Whether we should send troops to Europe. (The answer was a qualified yes.)
2. The General MacArthur inquiry. (Still going on.) While congress talked, a big bundle of its work, particularly work of which Mr. Truman was most interested, has bogged down, although congress can't be blamed for all the bog.
Now in its sixth month of business in 1951, congress has approved so far only these three major items which were also items of major interest to Mr.
Truman:
1. Wheat for India.
2. A new draft act, including a start for UMT — universal military training.
3. Extension of the reciprocal trade program for two years, an
and here are the major items, closest to Mr. Truman's heart,
which still haven't passed:
1. Income and corporation taxes.
2. $5,000,000,000 for defense.
3. $2,500,000,000 for atomic energy.

Bell to Seek Another Hike

Little Rock, June 8 — (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone company has announced it will seek a new rate increase in Arkansas.
Arkansas General Manager Warren E. Bray said the increase would be necessary because of wage raises granted employees this week.
The company got one increase okayed by the Arkansas public service commission last January, but the matter now is before the courts on appeal.

Europe and elsewhere.

4. Extension of the defense production act. Which means: All government controls over prices and materials end June 30 unless congress votes to keep them going.
5. Money to run the government agencies for the fiscal year which starts July 1. (This probably can't all be done by July 1
so, to keep them going until the full money can be voted congress may have to vote some stopgap authority to spend funds.
Federal aid to the states for education. (Unlikely to pass.)
7. Changes in the labor law.
(Most unlikely to pass.)
Sawdust: In between those major projects are a batch of smaller ones, some of which may pass through some not.
Even though some members are itching for the tail trees and cool waters of a vacationland, it seems impossible congress can finish up before September.

The tax bill, which hasn't even

passed one house yet, is bound to
require a couple more months of
hearings and debate before being passed.
But congress can't be blamed entirely for this demonstration of tardiness.
Before congress could tackle
two of the biggest items — the defense budget and arms production — it must first decide on how the money is to be spent and to be worked out by committee reports.

And then there's the tax bill.

And then there's the tax bill.
Congress has a long way to go before it can pass a tax bill.
The tax bill, which hasn't even
passed one house yet, is bound to
require a couple more months of
hearings and debate before being
passed.

Only a Rose, and how we love it! Yet it is the commonest of flowers.
It grows in every country, along every roadway under the sun. Every nation appreciates it. Perhaps it is like the sunshine, the spring dewdrops on its petals; all the more meaningful because so universal. God made the Rose.

Children carry them for their favorite teacher. Lovers weight them down with deep and intense affection for their beloved. Mature home loyers are brightened by their fragrance and loveliness. The hours of sorrow are lightened and sanctified by the silent ministry of friends who find no other expression of sympathy quite so satisfactory. Thank God for the simple wayside wild rose. Thank Him for all the patented varieties so much sought after throughout the land. His rose by any other name would smell just as sweet. It is God's Rose.

Can we not make the humble rose even more symbolic and glorious? Let the crystal purity of her white petals symbolize life everlasting. May she speak in reverent words of devotion, and love and God as she illumines His sacred pulpits all over the world. May she not testify to the omnipotence of God and may her sacred and significant voice be that of Him calling His children to worship. God made the Rose!
